About the Presenter

Ofer Zur, Ph.D., is the founder of the Zur Institute. He is a licensed psychologist, instructor, forensic and ethics consultant and expert witness. His writing and teaching in the US and abroad focus on ethics, critical thinking, boundaries, dual relationships, managed-care-free private practices, victims, psychology of war and psychology of gender. For many years he taught at graduate schools, such as the CSPP (Alameda, CA) and CIIS (San Francisco, CA). His books include, Dual Relationships and Psychotherapy (2002, co-edited with Arnold Lazarus) and HIPAA Compliance Kit (2003, Revised 2016, 2018). His book, Boundaries In Psychotherapy, was published in 2007 by APA Books. His latest book (2017) is Multiple Relationships in Psychotherapy and Counseling: Unavoidable, Common and Mandatory Dual Relations in Therapy published by Routledge.

Dr. Anthony Perillo is an Associate Professor and Training Director of the Forensic Psychology Postdoctoral Fellowship in the University of New Mexico's School of Medicine. He received his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from the City University of New York's Graduate Center at John Jay College in 2014. He is a licensed psychologist who has conducted forensic evaluations at the private practice, local, county, and federal levels and for the past six years has supervised clinical trainees in clinical, forensic, and police evaluations. Dr. Perillo has received several honors from the American Psychology-Law Society, including a First Place Dissertation Award for his research on risk assessment of sexually abusive clergy and the 2021 Early Career Teaching and Mentoring Award for his work with forensic trainees. Dr. Perillo's ongoing research focuses on factors that influence clinical judgment in forensic evaluations. As co-PI on project funded by the National Science Foundation, he recently completed a project with Dr. Jen Perillo examining cognitive and legal factors that lead to biased forensic evaluations. Dr. Perillo also supports practices to make forensic research more transparent, accessible, and trustworthy, and his paper on open science practice with Melanie Fessinger, Brad McAuliff, and Jen Perillo is in the recent Oxford Handbook of Psychology and Law.
